

I'll give up

I'll give up

There are things one just cannot know
Some things which only time will show
To surrender myself to it
It'll be fine
Surrender and let go of it
Embrace these fears of mine

Chorus:

And I'll give just trying to get it right
I'll give up this no-where-going-fight
And I'll give up again and raise my hands
To be illuminated and shown the way

There are things I will never understand
It's beyond my ability to comprehend
When the numbers don't add up

Giving all I've got

Receiving is not

Well, it's not, not enough

Chorus 2:

And I'll give up trying to sort it out

I'll give up holding on too close, too tight

And I'll give up this madness, give it away

To be led right and shown the way

I need the hand of an angel

As close as my own skin

I need the hand of that someone

An embrace from a gentle soul

Any sign of reassurance to tell me

It's not as bad as it seems

And I'm waiting, feel the passion, I'm just waiting

To feel something real

That I do feel

Outro chorus:

There are ways I just didn't take

Just because I was scared to death, so afraid
I admit I knew the deal, but I can't help what I feel
It's just too much to bear for one soul

The most sane thing to do at this time

Is to give in, give up all the time

Yeah, I'll give up my say, I resign

Yeah, I'll give up time after time
